Why Beditom? Here are some arguments in favour:

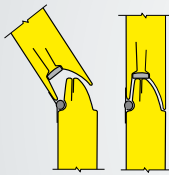

Quality without compromise – confirmed by independent certification institutions. Manufacture of Beditom doors is accomplished through Bureau Veritas quality management systems ISO 9001 and meets the highest requirements of European and global markets. Therefore, we grant long-term guarantees for our products.

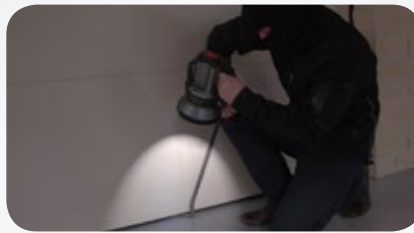

Long-term experience. Beditom has wide experience and traditions in the sale and manufacture of sectional doors in Poland. Our highly qualified experts take care of every detail and work continuously on innovatory technical solutions.

Finger trap protection

Perfect protection for the user is guaranteed thanks to special form of the door panels, which eliminates trap points, both between the sections and on the hinges.

Protection against burglary

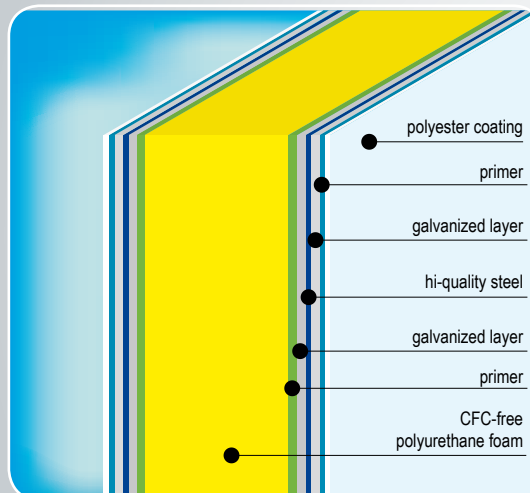

Automatic locking of the operator is a very effective protection against burglary and protects the garage doors against levering, even in case of power failure.

Overload switch

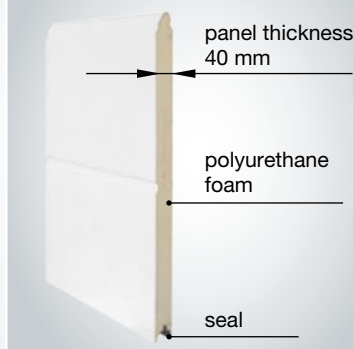

Each door has an automatic overload switch that provides a stop of the door and its return to the open position, when the door blade encounters the resistance during operation of closing.

Perfectly insulated doors

Construction panels

Beditom sectional doors are composed of 40 mm thick segments made of double galvanized sheet steel, filled with CFC-free polyurethane foam. These are equipped with the system of durable seals located around the perimeter of the door and between segments. Thanks to that solution, the door is effectively protected against wind, rain and cold.
